

Delayed deliveries at Herpa Miniaturmodelle GmbH

Unfortunately, there have been supply difficulties regarding some Herpa models due to the coronavirus pandemic. In order to protect our employees, we had decided in favor of short-time working at the beginning of the pandemic, since we are working very closely together in some areas.

We were able to end that after only a short time, but it still caused a delay in production, which we are tirelessly trying to catch up on.

Despite these multiple challenges, the entire Herpa team is working at full steam to make up for all these delays by the end of the year.